Online Resources

We have gathered a collection of online resources to support learning about Jewish heritage, traditions, and Holocaust education.

> Please note that some content addresses sensitive and challenging topics. While these resources are designed to be educational, they may not be suitable for all learners without guidance. We recommend parental support when accessing these resources.

Jewish Interactive – Interactive educational tools that bring Jewish learning to life.

- My Jewish Learning – A comprehensive resource on Jewish history, traditions, and contemporary topics.
- Jewish Ed Project – Supporting innovative Jewish education for all ages.
- PJ Library – A resource for Jewish children's literature and family activities.

For Holocaust education and remembrance:

- Toronto Holocaust Museum – Explore exhibits and survivor testimonies.
    - Virtual Visit – Experience an interactive virtual tour of Holocaust history.
    - Childhood Interrupted – A moving exploration of children's experiences during the Holocaust.
- Fragments in Focus: A History of the Holocaust brings together more than 160 objects from the collection of the Vancouver Holocaust Education Centre.

We invite you to explore these resources and deepen your understanding of Jewish heritage and history.
